DragonFly Unmanned Aerial Solutions (UAS) is an FAA approved aerial solutions provider. DragonFly is the touchstone for professional grade, high-concept aerial filming.

Aeronautical engineering staff + experienced aerial DPs have designed drone systems tailored specifically for the wants and needs of filmmakers.

At DragonFly we take time to understand your needs and move quickly to address challenges. Our mission is to provide filmmakers with the aerial coverage they need to fulfill their vision, without compromise.

DragonFly brings a strong core team of professionals with more than 50 years of production and on-set experience. DragonFly pilots are FAA licensed and our cinematographers are considered the very best in their field, with credits that include Terminator, Iron Man, Transformers, and Steve Jobs.

In addition to having back-up aircraft on every job, operational support is provided by our technicians and engineers whose expertise in aeronautical design and safety measures is without equal.

These elements combined make us uniquely qualified for aerial filming at the highest level. For more information, find us online at www.dragonflyuas.com or contact us at 310.984.6670
